Wow wow wow!!!

This is totally just my opinion but truthfully the only person in this whole bunch that I know we can all trust is Gerald. Obviously from the looks and sounds of things all of the others are intertwined and certainly have history which makes it murky as to who to believe. I would talk to Gerald tomorrow and hear straight from his mouth his authenticity concerns (remember who used the word "questionable") and then confront Joe with his and your concerns as Joe is the dealer you bought it from and from whom you have an authenticity certificate from.

Having the AGO Curator of Canadian Art raise authenticity questions is very different than listening to what might be someone else's private agenda. Again, just my opinion.

Dear Kevin,

Thank you for featuring the Norval Morrisseau paintings at your recent concert at the AGO. To follow up on your interest, the two pieces in question are valued at $9,000 apiece, or for $16,000 for the pair. These paintings would be a perfect complement to the larger Morrisseau already in your collection. Please feel free to call or email us, or to drop by the gallery to discuss in more detail.

Best regards

Joseph McLeod
